"Can it be possible that the closing of the LaSalle Street Trust & Savings Bank of Chicago was the result of bigotry! Former Senator Lorimer was president of the bank. About three weeks ago it was made public that he had been received into the Catholic church. According to the dispatch an-nouncing the failure, for the last three weeks, according to officials, there had been a mild run on the bank and more than $1,000,000 of deposits had been withdrawn. Looks very queer at this

It may look very queer at the distance of Buffalo, but from the distance of the Missouri hills it looks perfectly natural that a bank unable to survive a "mild run" of three weeks had something more to contend with than bigotry. If a mild run was all that befell Mr. Lorimer, and was drawn out over three weeks time, he certainly had plenty of opportunity to gather resources, if there were any, or if it was desirable to save the bank.

We have no doubt that Mr. Lorimer will finally prove equal to the emergency and meet all his bank's obligations; but the overheated imagination that traces a bank failure to a three weeks' assault of bigots is run was all that befell Mr. Lorimer,
